

Christoph Ernst (PhD, Mainz 2005) was born 1975 in Wiesbaden and studied German Studies, History and Philosophy. He is Program Manager (Post-Doc) at the Graduate School 'Cultural Hermeneutics – Reflections of Difference and Transdifference' at the Friedrich-Alexander-Universität Erlangen-Nürnberg (Germany), where he also teaches Media-Studies. He is currently working on a project about the influence of Flusser's intercultural thinking on his media-philosophy. Areas of interest: essayistic writing, skepticism, media theory, semiotics and deconstruction.