

Matthew Goodwin is currently pursuing his PhD in Comparative Literature at the University of Massachusetts Amherst. His interests include immigrant narratives, philosophy and literature, existentialism, new media, performance art, and the philosophy of Vilém Flusser. Matthew Goodwin has a BA/MA in philosophy and a MA in Comparative Literature. His PhD dissertation will grapple with Flusser's philosophy of immigration in comparison to other immigrant writers.