

Marie-Anne Soyez is currently attending the Research Master's program Cultural Analysis at the University of Amsterdam, Netherlands and holds a BA degree in Literary, Cultural and Media Studies from the University of Siegen, Germany. As intern and freelancer, she worked for the Museum of Contemporary Art in Siegen and the House of World Cultures in Berlin. She is interested in the relationship between images and words and generally in creative strategies of expression and internalization.